

Introducing the all new MMP-9090 Turbo Extreme

We know what you are thinking... Does the industry really need a machine that produces even stronger alkaline and acidic water? The creation of the 9090 Turbo Extreme isn't just about producing stronger water; it is much more than that. The success of our MMP-7070 Turbo tells us that consumers appreciate performance, quality and reliability. Tyent strives to lead the way with regards to advances in technology and performance.

Our all new MMP-9090 Turbo Extreme boast more power, more plates, higher flow rate capabilities, advanced filtration, and a stainless steel front is now standard on all 9090 models. Available in white and stainless, and black and stainless, the new 9090 Turbo Extreme also brings décor friendly design.

Staying true to our chemical free promise, the 9090 Turbo Extreme utilizes power and plates instead of chemicals to achieve amazing its amazing results. We wanted to be able to reach extreme levels in more types of source water and the only way to achieve this without chemicals was to increase the power of the machine. It is said that with great power comes great responsibility. Tyent understands this and everything we do takes these words into account. Simply increasing the power in a water ionizer is irresponsible because there must be enough plate surface area to support a power increase. By adding two additional plates (9 in total) we accomplished two goals. First, the additional plates ensure reliability. The average wattage per plate is well within the acceptable and responsible range to ensure longevity. This is supported by our lifetime (forever) guarantee. Secondly, the additional plates allow the machine to perform at levels above and beyond every other water ionizer in the world. These two extra plates combined with the additional power means extreme ph and ORP levels in almost any type of water. With most water ionizers it is necessary to reduce the flow rate in order to achieve better performance. The power and surface area of the new MMP-9090 Turbo Extreme reduces the need to slow the flow of water from your faucet. This means better water without the wait.

The very best just got even better. We wanted to take filtration to the next level as well. The 9090 Turbo Extreme now comes standard with our amazing Ultra Filters. This .001 micron internal filter system gives us bragging rights to the most advanced and most powerful filtration in the industry. The 9090 Turbo Extreme is the only machine in the industry with a .001 filtration; this is 10 times greater than that of our competitors.

Dressed to impress... With a water ionizer that has internal components suitable for industrial use; we decided that it only makes sense to offer it standard with a genuine stainless steel front. Tyent is the only company that offers a machine with a genuine stainless steel. Whether they choose a white case
